• Healthcare certificate
• Sustainability certificate

Theory plus real-world learning and personal reflection. Choose from more than 15 Action Learning labs—including those focused on leading sustainable systems, global entrepreneurship, finance, and healthcare.

“Women make up an increasing percentage of students at MIT Sloan. MIT Sloan Women in Management (SWIM) has helped lead a significant conversation on campus around unconscious bias through the Breaking the Mold initiative and prepares the women of MIT Sloan to re-enter and succeed in the workforce.”

Hailey Crowel, MBA ’16
Co-President of SWIM

“Since joining MIT Sloan, I was able to connect with a diverse group of knowledgeable, passionate, and humble business leaders who care about making an impact in the world. Through the MIT Sloan Black Business Students Association (BBSA) and the greater MIT community, I am able to build bonds in a place that fosters cultural diversity.”

Milton Jones, MBA ‘16
Black Business Students Association

“MIT Sloan has far exceeded my expectations for what an LGBT safe space could feel like. Diversity and inclusion are topics that we discuss—not just when our case material demands it, but as a regular review of how structural racism, sexism, and heteronormativity might be affecting our behavior as leaders, peers, and students.”

Jessica Kaiser, MBA ‘17
LGBT Club
