

YOUR FUTURE

The Career Development Office at MIT Sloan is your partner in designing a personalized career strategy. We provide comprehensive support for all executive transitions, whether your goal is to advance within your current company, shift to a new industry, or launch your own business.

Our coaching model empowers you to stand out and progress confidently in your career. Through our robust network, alumni connections, industry events, and access to leading research resources, we prepare you to take the next step with assurance and clarity.

Customized Career Coaching

The EMBA experience offers dedicated executive career coaches to help you define your career strategy and develop an action plan for success.

With the guidance of my executive career coach and the CDO, I opened the aperture of my career path, exploring roles and industries that truly align with MIT's deeper purpose: improving the world.

The Executive Career Journey gave me the structure, accountability, and psychological safety to reimagine my future with confidence, and the continued support of a trusted coach—even beyond graduation—has been instrumental in preparing me for a career of lasting impact."

MICHAEL A. CELONE, EMBA '25
